Privacy Policy

Tile Sort · Effective November 13, 2026

This Privacy Policy explains what information the mobile game Tile Sort (the “Game”) handles, why, and the choices you have. The Game is published by an independent developer (“we”, “us”). It applies to the Game on iOS and Android. Questions: gas.app.developers@gmail.com.

In short: you do not create an account, your progress stays on your device, the Game sends a small set of anonymous gameplay statistics, and ads are provided by Google AdMob, which collects device data under its own policies and your consent choices.

1. Information stored on your device

Your level progress, coins, purchased items, achievements and settings are saved only in the Game’s storage on your device. We do not receive this information. Deleting the Game deletes it.

2. Anonymous gameplay statistics

To understand how the Game is played and improve it, versions downloaded from the App Store or Google Play send a short list of gameplay events to Google Analytics. Each event contains:

- the event name: game opened, level completed, level restarted, special level skipped, hint used, extra tray slot used, shop item bought, rewarded ad watched, between-level ad shown, or achievement earned;
- one or two numbers about that event (for example the level number, number of moves, or coins spent);
- a random identifier created by the Game when it is first used. It is not your name, email, Apple ID, Google account, or the advertising identifier, and it is not linked to your identity.

As with any internet request, Google receives your device’s IP address, which Google Analytics uses to estimate a coarse location (such as country) and does not store. We do not use these statistics for advertising or to track you across other companies’ apps or websites. Statistics are kept for up to 14 months and then deleted. Reinstalling the Game creates a new random identifier.

3. Advertising

The Game shows ads from Google AdMob: an occasional full-screen ad between levels, and optional ads you choose to watch for a reward. To show ads, measure them and prevent fraud, Google may collect:

- device and app information (device model, operating system, language, app version);
- your IP address and approximate location derived from it;
- your device’s advertising identifier, where your device settings and consent allow it;
- ad interactions (for example which ads were shown and tapped) and diagnostic data.

Google’s use of this information is described at https://policies.google.com/technologies/partner-sites and in Google’s Privacy Policy, https://policies.google.com/privacy.

Your ad choices. If you are in the European Economic Area, the United Kingdom or Switzerland, the Game asks for your consent through Google's consent message before personalized ads are shown; if you decline, you see non-personalized ads. Where U.S. state privacy laws apply, you can opt out of the sale or sharing of personal information and targeted advertising through the same message. You can change your choice at any time from the Privacy options in the Game's menu. On iPhone and iPad the Game does not ask for permission to track you, so the advertising identifier is not available to Google. On Android you can reset or delete your advertising ID in your device settings.

Buying "Remove Ads" turns off between-level ads. Optional reward ads remain available if you choose to watch them.

4. Purchases

In-app purchases are processed by Apple (App Store) or Google (Google Play). We never receive your payment details; we only receive confirmation that a purchase succeeded so the Game can deliver it.

5. Game Center and Google Play Games

If you are signed in to Apple Game Center (or Google Play Games on Android), the Game reports achievements you earn to that service. That information is handled by Apple or Google under their own privacy policies. We do not receive your player profile.

6. What we do not do

- We do not ask for your name, email address, phone number, contacts, photos, or precise location.
- We do not sell your personal information.
- We do not run our own servers that store information about you.

7. Children

The Game is a general-audience puzzle game and is not directed at children under 13. We do not knowingly collect personal information from children under 13. If you believe a child has provided personal information, contact gas.app.developers@gmail.com and we will help remove it.

8. Your rights

Depending on where you live (for example under the GDPR in Europe or the CCPA in California), you may have rights to access, correct, delete or object to the processing of your personal information, and to opt out of its sale or sharing. Because we do not hold information that identifies you, the simplest ways to exercise these rights are: delete the Game (removes local data and the random statistics identifier), use the Privacy options in the Game for ad consent, and use your device's advertising settings. You may also contact us; we will respond within the time required by law. Legal bases (GDPR): your consent for personalized ads, and our legitimate interest in keeping the Game working and improving it for anonymous statistics and non-personalized ads.

9. International transfers and security

Google may process information in the United States and other countries, with safeguards described in its policies. Information sent by the Game travels over encrypted (HTTPS) connections.

10. Changes to this policy

We may update this policy when the Game changes. The new version will be published at the same address with a new effective date. Significant changes will be noted in the Game's update notes.
